VALUE BASED EDUCATION

Keeping in mind, the limited accessibility that women sometime have to Higher Education, the college also runs the Non Collegiate Women's Education Board (NCWEB) which is a focused endeavour to support the cause of women's education making it more accessible to all segments of society. We offer a range of programs and courses to women students at a nominal fee. Classes are held on Sundays and during academic breaks. This time table facilitates students' ability to pursue other courses as well as hold jobs. To help the students gain greater exposure and hone their personalities and skills, the NCWEB organizes a spectrum of activities.

In order to inculcate democratic values amongst students, every year the college holds elections for the post of Student Council Office Bearers. Students are encouraged to contest these elections, campaign, and vote. This encourages leadership skills as well as values pertaining to the processes of politics and empowerment. Hence they step out into the world, and make informed and independent choices.

Privilege entails responsibility. The College also works steadfastly towards fostering a sense of social responsibility among its student community. The College wing of NCC, NSS, Divinity Society and Enactus are very active in meeting this aim. Training the students to be of service to the community is a value actively promoted by the college. Enactus is a society that enables progress through entrepreneurial social action. Participation in Enactus provides university students with the opportunity to make a meaningful difference in their communities by solving urgent problems as well as build successful careers for themselves. To this end the college chapter of Enactus provides services as per needs of the community. During the pandemic Enactus compiled a verified list of hospitals, plasma donors

The motto of N.S.S. “Not me but you” upholds the need for selfless service. The philosophy of N.S.S. is founded on belief that the welfare of individual ultimately depends on the welfare of the society. NSS students are involved in Teach India Campaign, Swacchh Bharat Abhiyaan, Fit India Movement, slum visits, and various other programmes which foster civic duty and social responsibility. Teachers and students from the Department of Elementary Education have worked with two schools in the neighboring area, Kamlesh Balika Vidyalaya and S. Harkishan Singh School as an outreach programme.

Value for one’s tradition and a sense of history are very important to create good citizens. Several programmes are organized to foster these ideals. For instance, teaching ancient martial forms like the gatka, use and promotion of various vernacular languages, organizing cultural events linking students with various folk art forms are all attempts to promote and preserve India’s great cultural heritage.
