The counseling session delved into the remarkable journeys of well-known startups such as Zomato and Byju's. The speaker emphasized how these companies started as small ventures and grew into multi-billion-dollar enterprises. By discussing their net worth and strategies for profitability, the session provided students with real-world examples of how innovation, determination, and effective risk management can drive business growth. The speaker introduced GRMI's Post Graduate Diploma in Risk Management as an exceptional opportunity for students aspiring to pursue a career in risk management. What sets GRMI apart is its one-year duration, which allows students to acquire specialized knowledge and skills in a shorter time frame compared to traditional two-year programs.

The session witnessed enthusiastic participation and all the queries were answered by the speaker. It provided them with insights into the dynamic field of risk management and demonstrated how risk advisors play a critical role in steering companies through challenging times. The success stories of startups like Zomato, Byju's, and Swiggy served as inspiring examples of entrepreneurship and innovation.
