THE CANDID SHOW

Invictus, The Commerce Society of Mata Sundri College for Women organised an Inter-departmental event, The Candid Show, Great stories begin here, from 23rd April,21 to 25th April,21. The event was conducted via Zoom with an outreach of around 150 students. We believe that alumni panels are a great way for students to connect with career professionals who can inspire them and give insider tips for success. To share their experience on how they achieved their current position, to help other students in choosing the correct path to a successful career and overcome all the challenges and difficulties in the way, we had the successful alumni of our college and thriving public speakers.

The speakers of the Day 1 were Aastha Maheshwari who is a Tech researcher and Quant Specialist at Gartner, CIO AND ITL and the second speaker was Prableen Kaur, a famous and experienced Fashion Blogger. While on day 2, Mr Shivansh Bhardwaj, a Sydney based self help speaker and Founder of mondaymicdays enlightened students with his knowledge and wisdom. On the day 3, Tanya Malhotra, a professional Makeup Artist who represented Delhi at FBB Femina Miss India 2018 was the first speaker followed by Himani Khanna, who is a Senior Relationship Manager at Career Launcher, a Psychologist and a behavioral trainer.

The aim was to inspire and motivate our students for their future and bring back the lost motivation in students' lives due to the pandemic situation. The event was admired by the students and faculty members and it was a great success.
