

A Talk on An Agenda for Good Governance: Policy Initiatives in India, by Prof. Rumki Basu and Dr. Abhay Prasad Singh, 25th September, 2018

Convenor: Ms. Neetu Sharma

The Department of Political Science organized a talk with two eminent political scientists, Prof. Rumki Basu and Dr. Abhay Prasad Singh on the issue of good governance. Both the speakers gave persuasive presentations on the theme, drawing the audience's attention to important aspects of the same. Needless to say, the theme of good governance, being part of the ambitious Sustainable Development Goals, is of extreme relevance in the present times, and both the speakers were able to highlight aptly, not only the significance of a goal like good governance for a country like ours, but also the challenges that come in the way of implementation of the goal.
