

*Career Counselling Session by Mr. Sitender Choudhary***

To guide and provide assistance to students in their career related decisions a Career Counselling Session was organised by Asymptote, Department of Mathematics in collaboration with Statistika, Department of Statistics and Milestone: Civil Services Society. This session was held on April 24, 2023 in Lab-V.

Mr. Sitender Choudhary, currently working with Prepp IAS, is a renowned speaker, known for mentoring students specifically but not limited to the fields of UPSC civil services exams.

With a participation of over hundred students and in the presence of respected teacher faculty, the session began at 12 pm with felicitation of the speaker by Dr. Rama Verma (Teacher-in-charge, Department of Mathematics) and Ms. Prabhsharan Kaur (Teacher Coordinator, Department of Statistics) where they offered him a planter as a token of appreciation.

Mr. Sitender Choudhary began his session by enlightening students about the importance and value of UPSC exams and further guiding them as to how to start preparing for one. It was an interactive session with students expressing their thoughts and doubts with the speaker.

The session concluded with him informing everyone about ways to receive further guidance. All in all, this career counselling session concluded with well informed students and thought provoking moments.

Through an online form, precious feedback of all the participants were collected as well for future references.
