Report on Vigilance Awareness Campaign 2026

Theme: Promoting Integrity, Transparency and Accountability

Date: 28 October 2026
Venue: Mata Sundri College for Women, University of Delhi

Mata Sundri College for Women, University of Delhi, organised a Vigilance Awareness Campaign 2026 on 28 October 2026 on the theme "Promoting Integrity, Transparency and Accountability." The programme aimed to sensitise students and faculty members to the importance of ethical conduct, honesty, transparency and accountability in public life and administration.

The programme featured two distinguished speakers, Ms Susan, Principal Commissioner of Income Tax, and Shri Vaibhav Srivastava, Joint Commissioner of Income Tax. Their presence provided an opportunity for the college community to gain insights into the importance of vigilance and ethical practices in public administration.

The campaign focused on the significance of integrity in professional and personal life, the need for transparency in administrative processes, and the role of accountability in ensuring good governance. It highlighted the importance of vigilance in preventing corruption, promoting responsible conduct and strengthening public confidence in government institutions.

The programme also encouraged students to recognise their role in building a society based on honesty, fairness and responsibility. It emphasised that integrity is not merely an administrative requirement but a fundamental value that guides responsible citizenship and contributes to the effective functioning of democratic institutions.

The campaign served as a meaningful initiative to promote awareness about ethical values and the collective responsibility of citizens and public officials in maintaining transparency and accountability.

Conclusion

The Vigilance Awareness Campaign 2026 reaffirmed Mata Sundri College for Women's commitment to promoting ethical values, responsible citizenship and good governance. The programme reinforced the message that integrity, transparency and accountability are essential pillars of a just, responsive and corruption-free society.
