Report

The school authorities approached Vidyanjali team of Mata Sundri College to have an Art Integrated Learning (AIL) Workshop for the teachers of the pre-primary and primary school. The purpose was to enhance their skills of using AIL based pedagogy in their classrooms.

The workshop was attended by a group of 12 teachers including Pre-primary and Primary teachers of the school. Vidyanjali Coordinator of the school started the workshop by a brief introduction of the resource person Ms Divya Sharma (Asst. Prof., MSCW, Delhi University). Afterwards, the resource person oriented the participants towards the concept of Art Integrated Learning as an approach to teaching through relevant examples and activities. Participant teachers designed interesting AIL activities in pairs for different concepts of Language, mathematics and EVS during the workshop. They also made presentations after this. The workshop ended with the concluding remarks and appreciation for the participants by the Principal ma'am. All the teachers actively participated in the workshop and had a fun-filled learning session.
